SIMPLE FRESH AMERICAN DINING

Reducing Loss For Ruby Tuesday

The Challenge

An international restaurant chain known for its food and service sought an electronic security company that could help reduce shrink and deter robbery at its numerous locations. Chief among their needs was the ability to quickly access sharp, high-quality video whenever a crime was committed. Equally important, they needed a security partner that could provide timely service to its corporate stores and franchisees that spanned the entire United States.

The Solution

NAVCO's successful record of experience with leading restaurant chains and the ability to provide responsive service on a national basis proved to be the winning combination. A system of high-resolution cameras with NAVCO's unique Eclipser feature was strategically positioned to provide crisp, detailed video of the front door and other areas even in bright sunlight. Moreover, a customized web interface was created to provide access to video files from anywhere on the company's network. The image quality of the system as well as the excellence of the professional installers and service technicians contributed to a successful solution and a dramatic reduction in losses.

"We have been very pleased with NAVCO's services and products. They offer a personal touch that other larger vendors were unable to accomplish. NAVCO has the infrastructure to more than meet our needs, but is small enough to not forget that it is about relationships. NAVCO is a tremendous partner to our business."
